

Blessing in the Absence of Repentance

A man told me he went to Albertsons and Walmart, and they were funneling people through a single door and doing other types of, shall I say, strange things you would hardly believe. He said, "I felt as though I was in a communist system, or that a communist system was being perpetrated upon the people." I may not have said that exactly right, but when you stop and think about what he was saying, he was describing a system that treats people in a way that feels communist. They are behaving like communists, and I wonder if they want this nation to become a communist nation by infiltrating us with communist regulations.

I pray for our president, that God will give him wisdom and use him in wisdom. I know many people are angry with him and blame him totally and solely for what is going on. Let me assure you, there may be different ways the president might hear some truth, perhaps even from his own family. I have heard about that recently, and I pray it is so. Continue to pray for our nation. Pray for our president. Pray for divine deliverance through this coronavirus situation, whether real or imagined. We are all experiencing it because our government is manipulating the situation and taking advantage of a bad situation for its own purposes. Turn it on them, Lord Jesus, is my prayer at this time, and open a way for your people.

Now I want to talk about this: blessings in the absence of true repentance will not happen. Amen. Remember, God focuses on Israel in his Word. I do not think people are really reading. Oh, we have millions of people who read the Word, but they are reading it from a different point of view and a different perspective. If their spiritual eyes were truly open to what is going on right here, they would see that God is speaking to Israel. God's Word is upon Israel, and so should ours be.

I was watching the other day when they showed a little commercial about the blacks, starving people, missionary work, bloated stomachs, and all of that. There are other things we could say about this, I understand. But why are people in one of the biggest continents in the world starving to death? Can they grow crops? Can they learn to fish and do different things? I know some are fishing, and I know some crops are grown, but where are the wells that are supposed to be dug? Where are the basic things they could be doing to help themselves? Where are those things? For the most part, they seem to be missing until the white man comes in and digs wells, plows up some crops, or provides missionary work. Why is it that the white race always has to come to their rescue?

We could say that in part about other races and what was going on in places like the Philippines. You were there, and you saw it for yourselves. We could talk about various places, even Mexico. Why are they coming over here to the United States of America? They say they hate America, so why come to the place they supposedly hate? Because we are a blessed nation and a blessed people. But we are not going to be blessed if we continue in the ways we are going. Amen.

Blessings in the absence of repentance will not happen. I cannot repeat that enough. We will go nowhere nationally, or as individuals, if we do not repent. Amen. Again, we will go nowhere. And we want to go somewhere. We want to go on the biblical, righteous path. Amen. We want the path that leads to our resurrection, the resurrection of us, the resurrection of his people. We have every biblical right to declare that, do we not? We are not making this up.

I know I may sound a little loud on this, but let us get this straight. Let us go to the Word of God for our direction, our leading, and our healing. Amen. Turn from wickedness. Adhere to biblical instruction, which, for the most part, we are not doing. God's Word, God's laws, God's spiritual demeanor, righteous living, having a godly family, and holding godly family values are missing from our nation and our people. We want to be restored. Well, let us start doing the right thing. Let us go the biblical way and do the biblical thing we should be doing.

We want God's blessings to flow and overcome this nation and people, but national repentance must become a reality. That is just the beginning here. I stress it over and over again because we are not repenting. We can look at the various works being committed, whether fleshly, New World Order, CIA, Illuminati, 5G, CDC, FDA, pharmaceutical industry, or government rules and regulations. We turn to all these things, but not to God's Word.

Our real deliverance and our gathering together in worship are not acts of disobedience to the government just because of some insane government edict. Be it known, our obedience must be to God Almighty and his Word. We are gathered again today to worship Yahweh. We are not wasting our time. We are not worshipping blindly. We are worshipping in true biblical spirit and truth, are we not? We are trying to the best of our ability. We do not have all the answers. God has all the answers, and he provides them in his Word.

We are going to get to Deuteronomy chapter 28, and we will read many verses. We will start in verse one, but I want to say a couple of things before we get into this. How do we spiritually gain blessings from on high? We need God's blessings. We need deliverance from the ways of those who hate us. Amen. They will do everything within their power to keep us away from God.

As you know, they have already arrested a minister in Florida who was having church a week ago. He had the best ventilation system, and many of them were practicing the six-foot separation and various other precautions, I am told. But he was arrested by the sheriff in that county and put in jail, while criminals were being set free. Is there something wrong with this picture?

To a large extent, we are going to dwell on the solution. We are going to dwell mainly on God's blessings to us. I think we should read about God's blessings and what God's blessings have to say to Israel. They are directed again to Israel, so let us read about them in his Word. Blessings transform us. They make us whole in many ways and make us stronger as a people and as a nation. We want strength. We want health. We want God's direction and guidance in what we should do and what we should be about.

We need to believe in biblical salvation. I am not just talking about biblical salvation, but true biblical salvation. I am not talking about the Billy Graham type that we are always hearing about and falsely being told about. We do not just waltz into salvation. We show it by our actions and by being obedient to God's true biblical plan. No, our works do not save us. May I say that we do understand that. Our works do not save us, but God's true works matter if we put it all together properly. His true laws, spirit, and judgments are in his kingdom principles. We have true faith and a real blessed life. We are not to play as though we are Christians today; we are to be real, functioning, living Christian people.

In Deuteronomy 28:1, we read, "And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the LORD thy God." Are we hearkening diligently unto the Lord, by the way? Hardly. Most people are not doing this. I know the remnant. Bless them. Praise God for his remnant, for those who lift up our God and diligently pay attention to what he says. They are not just casually going to church once in a while, hearing a good sermon, going home, and living however they want.

They are diligently applying God's Word to themselves. We may make mistakes and wrong decisions, but we are trying. We are diligently applying ourselves to God's Word.

The verse continues, "to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the LORD thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth." He will do this. It is not an empty promise. He will set thee on high above all the nations of the earth. That is very important.

Now, we could say, "Oh, we are like that today." But can you really say that? Is this coronavirus a blessing upon us or a curse upon us? Is God Almighty cursing us today, or is he blessing us today? The Word does tell us that to those who diligently seek him, maybe only a remnant right now, he will bless us. I want you to think about that. He will bless us. How? I am going to read many verses about God's blessings today, but I am holding on to those blessings. How about you? Amen.

I am holding on to divine blessings and divine deliverance in this time of the coronavirus environment. I am not holding on to our government, what they tell us, what they promise us, the CDC, the FDA, the World Health Organization, or the pharmaceutical industry. I am holding on to Yahweh's divine blessings upon his people. He will bring about real blessings. He will restore his people who call upon him and live according to his ways.

We could almost stop reading with what we just read. Amen. It says it all right there for us: to observe and do all his commandments, which we are commanded to do. We are not to follow after man's commandments, but God's statutes, judgments, and laws for his people. We are not doing this. Not even by stretching our minds can we remotely say, in many cases, that we are doing this or living in a godly, righteous way.

There is so much more to this than what meets the eye. I will get into that as we move through this biblical lesson that we are to take to heart and understand. God can expand these laws. He can bless us far beyond what we are thinking right now. So do not stop there and think lightly or blindly about his laws, because God can greatly expand them.

God's biblical model is not corrupt, false, or misleading. It leads to our true freedom, true liberty, our solution, and the way to keep the enemy at bay. Do you want to know how to keep the enemy at bay in all its various forms, functions, and ways that it is coming at us today? There are more enemies out there, and God says something special about his enemies. I am going to get to that eventually, but remember that God says in his Word what he will do to those enemies.

Verse two says, "And all these blessings shall come on thee, and overtake thee, if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the LORD thy God." Point at yourself. If you will do his Word, those blessings will come upon thee. It is a promise from God's Word. There is an "if." Are people really doing that? No. For the most part, they are playing 501(c)(3) Christianity, are they not? This answer is staring us in the face. It is stark reality, friends, truth, and life. We can depend upon God's Word if we do what his Word declares and do not merely stand upon some form of impotent salvation, which most people are doing.

I know they listen to the TV preachers all the time. Not all of them are false; Charles Jennings, for example, is telling the truth, and there are others out there telling the truth. Praise God for them. But what we are hearing and seeing for the most part today is a false form of salvation that gives us the impression of security and hope. Is it real hope that we are being given today? Nothing has really changed, has it? If we were doing things the biblical way, the right way, the righteous way, and holding on to our Lord Jesus Christ the right way, we would see change in our nation in many ways, which I will get into. But right now, I want you to understand that this is not King Jesus. It is religious pablum.

One thing that is a very pertinent part of our Christian faith is truth, including true biblical repentance. I pray for true biblical repentance, especially at this time. Amen. Christianity is not founded upon mere grace. Let us talk a little about grace, because it is a misunderstood and misapplied term. The grace we are told about today and told to live according to is really a grace of nothingness. I could say it a different way, but true biblical grace is founded upon the Lord Jesus Christ, our blessed Redeemer, who did something tremendous. Let us not forget that he died upon the cross to redeem his people, Israel.

He did not die for the whole world as the phrase is often misapplied and misunderstood. When you look at that term cosmos and everything connected with it, he died to redeem Israel. He is the Redeemer of his people. All through the Word, it declares that, yet we get mixed up just like we do with Adam. Who are the Adamites? We are not all Adam. We are not all white people, for instance. The Bible does not deal with what the Bible does not deal with. Yet people try to make it say that we are all one people.

Yesterday, the Mormons got together. I was told by a Mormon to go on TV and watch it, because he said it would bless me. It was about Joseph Smith and what they are doing for the world. Well, they were lying to you, and they spent a tremendous amount of time in that program lying to the people. The Mormon choir was there, singing beautifully, and they were all smiling. But it was an empty audience, and they were playing a tape of the Mormon Tabernacle Choir. They were singing so beautifully and smiling at you. But do they all have something to smile about, or were they trained to smile that way? Were they trained to give that message?

There were messages about Brigham Young and Joseph Smith, and the glories of Joseph Smith. Are we to do that? He was lifted even above Jesus Christ, by the way. Their scripts were delivered eloquently. I listened to them for a while because I promised this man I would. They were all scripted. They did not make one error. They did not stop and have to think about words. They talked without one blur. It was well scripted. In other words, what they said was scripted and put over the television screen. There was no audience before them to see this.

Why am I saying that? Because much of what we hear from modern religions, not just the LDS, is scripted to a degree. They have all kinds of money to apply to what we are being told. But is it the truth? Should we open our church to all races and all people? Absolutely not. The Word of God warns us of what will happen if we do that.

Our faith, our hope, and even our works belong to him and to no one else: the Lord Jesus Christ. Amen. We are not about some empty grace or faith. Our works declare our faith in many ways because our works and our faith are placed in the Lord Jesus Christ and in what he directs us to do in compliance with his Word. By the way, I should remind you that the Apostle James said he would show his faith by his works, did he not?

Putting our faith into the right form of biblical action means something. It will mean so much to us today if we do things in the biblical way. Not what we think is the biblical way, but the true biblical way. No, our works alone do not save us. That is not what I am saying. But our works and our obedience to the Lord Jesus Christ are shown and declared through his Holy Spirit, which guides us and leads us. Praise God. Amen. His Spirit will lead us according to his works, not some emptiness that says, "We are Spirit-fed, and we do not need your Word. We just need the Spirit." That is a lie. Jesus Christ gets the glory, not man's ability. I realize that.

So be faithful in compliance. Be a righteous, loving, obedient people. Do not be a people who are filled with lust, the flesh, deceit, selfishness, and fleshly things. No way. That is our death. It is a curse upon us if we go the way of this world. I might add that we are to stay away from such things, and that includes the pharmaceutical industry, drugs, vaccines, and government solutions that people are putting their faith in today. They are living in fear because of what the government is telling them. Let us be free of these lies and deceptions.

Friends, I want to move ahead quickly because there is much to cover. Verse three says, "Blessed shalt thou be in the city, and blessed shalt thou be in the field." Verse four continues, "Blessed shall be the fruit of thy body." I am going to get into that. Hold on. It also says, "and the fruit of thy ground, and the fruit of thy cattle, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep." Verse five says, "Blessed shall be thy basket and thy store." Verse six says, "Blessed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and blessed shalt thou be when thou goest out." Oh, wonderful words.

Let us bring this up to date a little, if I may take a little liberty here. Our groceries, our land, our produce, the animals we raise, our jobs, our work and labor, and our money being transformed into real money and real wealth would all be blessings. We do not have real money and real wealth today. You think twenty-five, twenty-seven trillion dollars, or who knows what the number is now with all the insanity going on, is real wealth? Borrowing Jewish money is not real wealth. Our families and our children living biblically and free, taught in the ways of the Lord, are real blessings.

What have our enemies done today? They have pretty much taken those kinds of blessings out of this nation, except for their money system and other things. I understand that. But true practices, including biblical practices about race and what we should do about race and race mixing, have been abandoned. I will say that again because it is a big problem today. Sports and other things, including the Food Channel, CBS, NBC, Fox News, and more, are being used to promote race mixing, the corruption of the race, and the bringing of different things together.

My son told me this morning that there was a wedding down the road here. It was held outside, and for some reason they showed up at this man's house. Lo and behold, do you know who the attendants were? Two lesbians. Someone said, "You said a wedding." Sorry. Well, it might as well have been a funeral because God is not going to bless it. That is the whole point. They wanted God's blessing upon them, but they were told that God is not going to bless this. They were in violation of God's law. He was telling them what the Word of God says.

I am saying this because we are so mixed up. People want to blend in, mix in, and be accepted and praised by the world. When I was young, I was accepted by the world and lived with the world. I did not know any better. The more I fit into the world, the more I was accepted by the world as one of its own. But when I stepped out of the world, they started hating me and coming against me. They were not friends with me. That shows you who your real friends are. I am not saying that because I want them as my friends. I do not. But it was a blessing from on high to come out of that and not be partakers of her sins. It took biblical study and biblical reality before I began truly learning.

Verse seven says, "The LORD shall cause thine enemies that rise up against thee to be smitten before thy face: they shall come out against thee one way, and flee before thee seven ways." How interesting. Seven ways. They shall come against thee one way and flee before thee seven ways. I call that a scattering, by the way. Do you? Amen. God has a plan way beyond what we even think.

There is some serious confusion going on here. Basically, it is saying that the enemy scatters. I am going to expand upon this. They do not have the foggiest idea what they are doing. That tells me something, and I could talk about it on various other levels. God's enemies do not have the foggiest idea, and they go running in lots of different directions. Amen. They have been doing their depraved wickedness among Israel. Yes, they have. But God will do something. He will cause our enemies to flee.

Again, I have to wonder, expectantly, because his Word talks about it, what that will turn into. Can God have a plan and a way? Absolutely. He has a way that will, excuse my French, blow our minds. I do not know another way to say that. Our minds, in many cases, need to be blown open. They need to be expanded to the biblical way, the biblical solution, and what God can do. Do you have a vision of what God can do? Do you think that way? Or do you think, "What is the government going to do for us?" I hope not. If you do, you had better repent.

Also, do we dare even bring this up and think that anyone who reads and believes God's Word can somehow go along with this? Do we just go ahead and mix, mingle, and have some kind of warped association with the world at large, patting them on the back? I am not saying to be unkind. Be kind. But you do not have to carry on a long conversation with them, especially when most of it is stupid, mindless conversation about junk today. It seems even more stupid than a decade ago, and more than the decade before that. It seems like we are getting dumber in many ways, not smarter.

Look at the actions in the universities and the way young people are behaving today. Even older people act foolishly. How many people have you seen in their fifties, sixties, seventies, or older acting like they want to carry on the old hippie way? No offense, but that is what it is. I know many of us grew up in the hippie generation, and there were some things we learned from that. I understand that. But our real learning is to come from God's Word and from applying God's Word and his truth.

John Lennon is not our God. The Beatles are not our God. The Doors are not our God. Jimi Hendrix is not our God. Frank Sinatra is not our God. John Wayne is not our God. George Strait is not our God. We could go on down the line. We have to get away from these things that misdirect, misguide, and misapply truth. You look at the world out there. We smile, sing, and go along with the joke. Why? Because the groups are multicultural. They sing multicultural songs, worldly beats, worldly music, and worldly words. Because the songs have a good tune, are we supposed to turn off our brains and go along with that?

Well, I want to turn to God. Amen. I want to turn to him. The older I get, the more assured I am of this. I like what the Apostle Paul had to say about going along with the world and all these things: God forbid. God forbid. He was steadfast. He changed from the world. He had been one of them. He had been a Pharisee of the Pharisees, but he came out of that. He said, in effect, "God forbid. I am sticking with my God." They may kill me, and they did. He sacrificed his very life for his people.

Let us look on. Verse eight says, "The LORD shall command the blessing upon thee in thy storehouses, and in all that thou settest thine hand unto; and he shall bless thee in the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee." I am claiming it. The United States of America is God's blessed land. Yes, we see many problems today, but I am here to declare what God's Word declares: he is more than able to straighten this mess out. But he is not going to compromise with his Word, his people, or this or that. We are going to get a spanking. Are we getting a spanking today? I would say so.

For more than twenty days, and for some people longer, we have been locked up to a certain extent. Even gathering here today is treated as something they cannot allow. The government will close you down. Well, the government is not my God. Do we believe in God and God's Word? I hope so. Can God deliver? I know so. Should we just shut down, live in fear, cower, panic, go inside, wait until it is all over, and do whatever the government, the CDC, and the rest say? For how long? A month? Two months? Three months? Some are talking about the whole summer. Are we to stay locked up until it is all done in pieces? Really?

Are we to kill this economy, the restaurants, and all the other things that go on today? Millions of people are without work. I think that is doing more damage than the virus itself. How about you? Amen. Is God going to change his mind? I do not think so. Dare I say, we still need to repent and turn from our selfish ways, our selfish desires, our flesh, and our wants. We need his ways.

Someone might say, "My flesh is weak, Pastor." Well, so is mine. I can pray, and you can pray, too. "Pray for us, Pastor." Well, I prayed. You pray, friend, if you are watching this right now. You pray. You stand upon God's Word. You act like a godly man or a godly woman. I know God keeps his Word to Israel. He did not make that covenant word to the rest of the world. He made it to Israel. Let us apply it to us. He does not break his Word toward Israel.

That is why I can say with firm assurance, ladies and gentlemen, that all the corrupt practices and ways of man will not stand, even though you may think so. I declare what God's Word declares. Someone might ask, "When, Pastor?" Well, when are you going to repent? If you say, "I do not know. I am just going to go along with the flow until the end," that is not repenting. God's Word has declared this in so many ways, and we can be assured of his Word. Take firm assurance in his Word and in godly, righteous direction.

Verse nine says, "The LORD shall establish thee an holy people unto himself, as he hath sworn unto thee, if thou shalt keep the commandments of the LORD thy God, and walk in his ways." If you will do this, verse ten says, "And all people of the earth shall see that thou art called by the name of the LORD; and they shall be afraid of thee." What does it say? It says they shall be afraid of Israel.

How many ways can this be said before God's covenant people, even as remnant people, awaken and put this into practice so that it truly becomes a way of life? By the way, to what people is God's Word speaking here? It says, "And all people of the earth shall see that thou art called by the name of the LORD." Who is this? Israel. The world shall be afraid of Israel. They shall have deep respect or fear of Israel.

Why are they going to do this? Because Israel will have started fearing God, obeying him, living righteously, applying his laws, statutes, and judgments, getting back to family values, going to true churches, hearing God's Word, going home and reading God's Word for themselves, applying that Word to their land, applying that Word to their jobs, and applying that Word to their crops.

Verse eleven says, "And the LORD shall make thee plenteous in goods." Hallelujah. It continues, "in the fruit of thy body, and in the fruit of thy cattle, and in the fruit of thy ground, in the land which the LORD sware unto thy fathers to give thee." Who are the fathers? Israel. Let us not just gleefully skip over this. It says, for one thing, "in the fruit of thy body." This is talking about our health.

Is it not interesting today how most people are living in fear of some invisible, real or imagined, type or form of this coronavirus that they tell us is out there, and what it might do to them? Look at how they use this invisible virus to control us today. Look at the massive control they are wielding over the people. Whether real or imagined, many people today are living in fear of the unknown and what might possibly happen to them. They are not living in fear of God and what God can do to this nation. They are living in fear of what a virus might do to them and of man's plans, including Bill Gates and vaccination programs.

I have an article coming out on this, and I have sent it to you all. Bill Gates has become an idol to them, has he not? He is using his model to engineer this and manipulate the people, and our government is using this while we are supporting it. It is crazy. It is madness, is it not? Many people will not even look at what is happening. All they can do is cower in fear. They will not even look at what, for instance, the internet is telling them. There is a lot of information out there. Instead, they whisper to one another about what might happen. They say, "Oh, this is real. I have seen it happen to a friend of mine. I know another person, and I know it is real." What do they know? That the virus is real? I have many questions about that, and those will be in our newsletter. I do not have time to get into all of that right now.

Let us not forget that the government is using a big stick. It is using the threat that you will not get your money unless you are in full compliance with what the government says. Doctors and others are creating rules, and the government is creating massive rules and regulations. Big Pharma is dictating to us today. They will withhold that paycheck from you. They are dangling it over us like a carrot on a stick. That ought to get an amen, should it not?

Verse twelve says, "The LORD shall open unto thee his good treasure, the heaven to give the rain unto thy land in his season, and to bless all the work of thine hand: and thou shalt lend unto many nations, and thou shalt not borrow." Yes, that is what I read. Thou shalt not borrow. First of all, let us not forget the rain because God's Word declares that it is a blessing from heaven, a blessing from on high. This blessed rain that we are having now is needed by our land in many ways.

Also, what does the Word of God tell Israel? He says, in essence, "You are my people, Israel. You are my covenant people, and therefore I command thee: thou shalt not borrow." I am not pointing any fingers. I am simply stating what the Word of God says. We are not to act like the other nations or the heathen. We are not to act like them or be engaged in this usury practice. In addition, may I remind you again, this is not true money or a true monetary system. It is based upon fraud. It is not our blessing. It is our curse. Do not put your trust in this fraudulent scheme of theirs.

The Word does say that we can lend to others, but Israel is not to be engaged in this fraudulent usury debt system. I remember many years ago when we moved away from our house in Phoenix, Arizona. We sold the house to a man at no interest. We drew up that contract because we specifically wanted no interest charged to him. I am not saying that to brag, because we took a loss on it. We simply would not engage in interest. He was very shocked by that. And do you know what? God blessed us for doing it. Will God bless you? You try him. Reach unto him and see if blessings from on high might not come to you. I assure you they will, in one form or another.

That is not the only area in which we have to obey him. There are many areas. But let us start by putting God first in our lives. Verse thirteen says, "And the LORD shall make thee the head, and not the tail; and thou shalt be above only, and thou shalt not be beneath." This is if thou hearken unto the commandments of the Lord thy God, which he commands thee this day, to observe and to do them. Verse fourteen says, "And thou shalt not go aside from any of the words which I command thee this day, to the right hand, or to the left." Do not be wishy-washy about it. And do not go after other gods to serve them. There are other gods all over the place, including the government. Do not go after them.

Can anyone truly say that we are the head today? True Anglo-Saxon Israel has not been the head, ladies and gentlemen, for years. But God's Word promises that one day we shall be the head. If we start obeying him and putting his Word first in our lives, a true new world order will come from this. I am using the phrase "new world order," but not as they use it. We will have a new world order in a biblical sense: a type of Israel that follows the kingdom of God and his righteousness, divine and godly order.

A spiritual light of truth will be poured out so abundantly for his people in that day that we will not be able to contain it. Yahweh's Spirit and truth will be given to his people. There will be an amazing vision poured out into his Israel people, the likes of which we have never seen before. His covenant people will truly come alive. Amazing, unseen, and unheard-of innovations will come from this, never considered or dreamed of before. Blessings will come forth: power, energy, wonderful inventions, and food that will be a great part of our blessing. Again, we cannot even conceive of the many blessings God will pour out upon us when he makes things right.

Our families will once again be blessed. We will be among our own kindred. We cannot be blessed while being part of the world and all this multiculturalism that is going on today. God will amazingly restore Israel. He has promised in his Word that he will do so when we truly repent, put away our corrupt ways, and truly start following the ways of righteousness.

Shall we pray? Lord Jesus, I know I have had a lot to say. I believe I needed to say it. Direct your Word. Add to what I have said as time goes on. Help our people, and if they are lacking in any way, help them. If I am lacking, help my unbelief. Steady me according to your Word, your will, your plan, and your real plan of salvation and divine order. Speak that divine order unto all of us. Open us up to this divine order. As we read your Word and expand upon your Word, true liberty and freedom will flow. In the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.
